Honorable Thomas G. Morris
House of Representatives
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Morris:

STAT Thank you for your memorandum of 25 January concerning an inquiry you received from [] regarding the action taken on his application for employment with us.

STAT We have reviewed [] file and can assure you that our tentative offer of employment to him was not withdrawn on security grounds. Rather, as indicated in our letter to him, this action was the result of an over-all evaluation of factors pertinent to [] general qualifications and our recruitment needs. We have a continuing recruitment program for young men of [] general background and the competition for final selection among those who meet the minimum requirements is keen.

STAT [] application has been retained in our active file and will be considered with other applications in filling appropriate vacancies which might develop in the future. However, we have nothing definite in mind for him at this time and can give no assurance concerning future openings.

STAT Knowing of [] interest in relocating to the Washington area, we hope that your reply to him will convey an invitation to him to visit our headquarters offices in the event that he should come to Washington on other business.

Sincerely,

John S. Warner

Honorable Hubert H. Humphrey
United States Senate
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Senator Humphrey:

STAT

Thank you for bringing to our attention the inquiry you received from [redacted] regarding his interest in intelligence work. The enclosed brochure contains general information concerning employment with this Agency. In addition you might wish to advise [redacted] somewhat along the following lines:

STAT

The Central Intelligence Agency conducts continuing recruitment of bright young men and women who wish to make their careers in intelligence work. The range of qualifications required by the Agency is so broad that many courses may lead to appointment. A good knowledge of history, interest and familiarity with international affairs, and foreign language knowledge are important regardless of the individual's field of academic specialization.

We would be glad to have a representative talk with [redacted] but it may be some time before this could be arranged at [redacted]. If he would like to learn more about us after reading our brochure, we suggest that he let us know if he might be interested in service on a career basis. In this event, we would ask our field representative in that area to get in touch with [redacted] when he planned to be in or near [redacted]. Also, without suggesting that [redacted] travel to Washington for this specific purpose, we would be glad to have him visit our headquarters if other business should bring him to this area.
